

Resettled Aeta community

Mount Pinatubo, Zambales, philippines

Tribal leaders: Palab, Pol, Lorena, Jesus

egy with local ministers on establishing a message comm for the whole staff to board the custom made truck in Bih rkers, some supplies and a four by four weapon carrier, oughing it out in the rain across the desert-like lahar field

Everyone was soaking wet as we reached our destination

Bearing the heat of the sun after the rain.

Typical negrito house

The lot designated for the first church to be built in the community

The men of the community in Bagong Silangan town. She gladly received us, pledged to cooperate with

The newly settled Aeta villagers ne of the few houses that has been erected in the village

Aeta children have to walk two hours to school.

Typical Aeta bamboo thatched hut missed the once-a- day trip on the weapon carrier. Trav

Skylab

Countryside Taxi

mountain range not far from the volcano that erupted in cooked food for the 200 families that attended the event

Carrying steel ramps to keep our truck from stalling in the sandy lahar field. We had to cross the river a dozen times to reach our destination.

The beautiful Mount Pinatubo range

(Negritoe) villagers intently listening to the Gospel prea